

COLORADO

luxe.

interiors + design

perfect alignment.

WRITTEN BY PATRICK SORAN | PHOTOGRAPHY BY PETER AND KELLEY GIBSON

WHEN EXQUISITELY DESIGNED ROOMS END UP PERFECTLY ALIGNED WITH EQUALLY SPECTACULAR VISTAS, IT'S NO COINCIDENCE; IT'S COLLABORATION. And in the case of a custom home nestled in a mountain valley near Vail, the design team sited the house, laid out the rooms and positioned the furniture, all with a focus on highlighting the Colorado landscape. "The views from this land are absolutely frameable," says builder Tom Solawetz.

HOME BUILDER Tom Solawetz, Beck Building Company

ARCHITECTURE Bill Poss, AIA, Poss Architecture + Planning

INTERIOR DESIGN George Terbovich, George Terbovich Design

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE Nicholas Soho, Greg Mozlan & Associates, Inc.

BEDROOMS 5 BATHROOMS 7 SQUARE FEET 11,600

BLONDE AMBITION

Slipcovered in Rogers & Goffigon linen, a suite of chairs and a sofa custom designed by George Terbovich flank the fireplace in the living room, which Gore Range Masonry clad with buff limestone veneer. The wood floors are reclaimed Austrian spruce from Arrigoni Woods.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 221

How did they get it spot on? "We built platforms," Solawetz adds. After the preliminary room ideas and siting were considered, the builder, with the help of landscape architect Nicholas Soho and a land surveyor, erected wooden viewing platforms to the exact floor level height and window alignment as the future structure's design. "It took the guesswork out of capturing the scenery," says Solawetz.

And the owners insisted on maximizing those panoramas, which include glimpses of the Gore Range to the east and, off to the south lift, the Sawatch Range. "The house wanted to be transparent," says architect Bill Poss, "because there are mountains on one side and valleys on the other." He and architect Julie Maple spread the home east and west along a bit of a ridge, and most of its major spaces have windows on both sides.

UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS

The master suite gallery serves as a transition between wings. Just as the home itself celebrates the outdoors, so do the art pieces hanging above the upholstered leather bench. The custom hand-forged iron stairway railings are by Myers & Company Architectural Metals.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

A secondary living area off the kitchen was conceived as a getaway by the design team. Light fixtures throughout the house were a collaboration between Terbovich and lighting design firm Robert Singer & Associates; they're crafted with glass from Flickinger Glassworks and heat-textured steel from Myers & Company.

SHIFT IN TIME

Hans Wegner chairs from Collage 20th Century Classics in Dallas wear Holland & Sherry chenille and give the dining area a midcentury modern lean. Head chairs are Dunbar from Nick Carter and Company. The rug is Flor's Toy Poodle.

HORSE PLAY

A large painting from the owners' collection dominates this discreetly scaled landing. The design team wanted transition spaces to feel open and inviting without being filled to the brim with furniture.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 223

"We think of it as being a contemporary Texas ranch," says Maple. "Contemporary" because of the tall, wide expanses of glass and the crisp simplicity of the detailing inside. "Texas ranch" because of the low-slung profile, the board-and-batten siding, the deep, wraparound porch and the particular way in which the stone is laid up. "It's called buttered stone," says Maple, identifying the buff limestone culled from several quarries with mortar joints that are especially wide and visible. "It's very Texas."

The Lone Star aesthetic is visible on the interiors as well; a rack of Texas longhorns rides herd above the buttered stone fireplace in the main living area, for example. The furnishings are soft and warm, and the rooms are spacious and filled with light. "We wanted the interiors to be almost blonde," says Kansas City, Missouri-based designer George Terbovich.

MODERN INTERPRETATION

In the library-like game room, two Stickley chairs from Michael FitzSimmons Decorative Arts in Chicago overlook the vintage billiards table that was re-felted by Fox Hot Tubs & Billiards using Simonis Cloth fabric. The shelves comprise an 1890s English Regency piece from Richard Norton Gallery in Chicago.

STYLE SELECTION

This traditional barstool from Vanguard Furniture, crafted out of eco-friendly rubberwood, presents a mix of comfort and elegance. Miles Bar Stool, starting at $375; vanguardfurniture.com

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 227

That gleaming openness is achieved in three ways. "The rooms are large but perfectly scaled," explains the designer. He doesn't like to overwhelm homeowners with big furniture, preferring instead to design things to fit their personal sizes and tastes. Secondly, the major materials were kept simple and clean. White plaster is used throughout, and the wood floors, trims and trusses are a reused, resurfaced Austrian spruce. "The facing on the cabinetry and casings has been wire brushed to bring up the texture, but we also used a light-colored wash to brighten them a bit," says Terbovich. Finally, sunshine comes in from all directions via walls of glass. The architect and designer agreed; swaths of glazing let in both the foreground and the far vistas, plus they allow the volumes to echo the luminescence that fills Colorado's dazzling skies.

The furniture blends pieces that the owners brought with them, such as the billiards table and the leather chairs facing the fireplace, and new

IN THE GROOVE

Custom painted V-groove, flat-panel overlay cabinetry from Heartwood Custom Woodworks anchors a dramatic set of wire-brushed windows by Architectural Traditions. A Dornbracht fixture fills a Kohler tub from Ferguson in Dallas. Hillsboro limestone countertops are from Colorado Marble & Granite.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 229

pieces, selected or designed by Terbovich to fit the scale of the spaces. Fabrics are natural: linens, leathers and wools. Colors are generally muted except for punches meant to keep things from getting too bland, such as in the dining area. "You might say that the dining area and bar have a little bit more to say, color-wise," muses Terbovich.

So paint this place collaborative. "The house is all about harmony," says Terbovich. "Harmony with the site, harmony of ranch and contemporary, and the harmony of the team working together." L

GONE FISHING

The master bedroom, lit by a chandelier from Paul Ferrante, overlooks a short meadow leading to a trout pond. An Essex needlepoint rug from Elizabeth Eakins in New York grounds wicker chairs from Bielecky Brothers, also in New York, and a custom cabinet covered in Edelman Leather hide.

2

BARSTOOLS
Collage 20th
Century Classics
Dallas, TX
214.828.9888

3

DINING TABLE
Custom by designer
Donald Clayton
Kansas City, MO

4

DINING SIDE CHAIRS
Collage 20th
Century Classics
Dallas, TX
214.828.9888

5

RUG
Flor
Chicago, IL
866.952.4093

1

CHAIRS
Michael FitzSimmons
Decorative Arts
Chicago, IL
708.763.8220

ARCHITECTURE Poss Architecture + Planning

HOME BUILDER Beck Building Company

INTERIOR DESIGN George Terbovich Design

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE Greg Mozian & Associates, Inc.

APPLIANCES

Bosch,
Sub-Zero & Wolf
Discount Cabinets &
Appliances, Inc.
Avon, CO
970.748.6442

ARCHITECTURE
Poss Architecture + Planning
Aspen, CO
970.925.4755

BATHROOM LIGHT PENDANT
Custom by designer
and lighting designer
Myers & Company
Architectural Metals
Basalt, CO
970.927.4761

BATHROOM LIGHT PENDANT GLASSWORK
Flickinger
Glassworks, Inc.
Brooklyn, NY
718.875.1531

BEDROOM CARPET
Elizabeth Eakins Inc.
New York, NY
212.628.1950

BEDROOM CHAIRS & OTTOMANS
Bielecky Brothers, Inc.
New York, NY
212.753.2355

BEDROOM CHANDELIER
Paul Ferrante, Inc.
New York, NY
212.355.7285

BEDROOM HEADBOARD
Custom by designer
J. David Upholstery
Kansas City, MO
816.523.0042

BEDROOM TELEVISION CABINET
Custom by designer
Donald Clayton
Kansas City, MO
816.863.3254

BEDROOM WALL LAMPS
Hubbardton Forge
Castleton, VT
802.468.3090

BILLIARDS ROOM BOOKSHELF
Richard Norton
Gallery
Chicago, IL
312.644.9359

CABINETRY & MILLWORK
Heartwood Custom
Woodworks
Eagle, CO
970.328.9663

DINING ROOM HEAD CHAIRS
Dunbar Nick Carter and Company
Kansas City, MO
816.471.7677

FINISH CARPENTRY
Sawhorse Woodworking and Design
Avon, CO
970.471.4772

HOME AUTOMATION
Electronic Systems Consultants
Aspen, CO
970.925.1700

HOME BUILDER
Beck Building
Company
Vail, CO
970.949.1800

INTERIOR DESIGN
George Terbovich,
Design
Kansas City, MO
816.361.2100

KITCHEN CHANDELIER
Custom by designer
and lighting designer
Myers & Company
Architectural Metals
Basalt, CO
970.927.4761

KITCHEN
CHANDELIER GLASSWORK
Flickinger
Glassworks, Inc.
Brooklyn, NY
718.875.1531

KITCHEN
LIMESTONE COUNTERTOPS
Colorado
Marble & Granite
Englewood, CO
303.777.4242

KITCHEN
STAINLESS STEEL COUNTERTOPS
Colorado Custom
Stainless Steel, Inc.
Denver, CO
303.433.2370

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE
Greg Mozian & Associates, Inc.
Basalt, CO
970.927.2194

LANDSCAPE INSTALLATION
Rocky Mountain
Custom Landscapes
Gypsum, CO
970.748.8461

LIGHTING DESIGN
Robert Singer &
Associates, Inc.
Basalt, CO
970.963.

LIVING ROOM RUG
Jajim
Warp & Weft
New York, NY
212.481.4949

LIVING ROOM
SLIPCOVERED CHAIRS AND SOFA
Custom by designer
George Terbovich Design
Kansas City, MO
816.361.2100

LIVING ROOM SLIPCOVER FABRIC
Rogers & Goffigon
Greenwich, CT
203.532.8068

METALWORK
Myers & Company
Architectural Metals
Basalt, CO
970.927.4761

ROOF
Horizon Roofing
Eagle, CO
970.328.4185

STONEWORK
Gore Range Masonry
Edwards, CO
970.748.1368

WINDOWS
Architectural Traditions
Tucson, AZ
520.574.7374

WOOD FLOORING
Arrigoni Woods
Minturn, CO
970.479.1800